

SCACE FALL DRIVE-IN

FURMAN UNIVERSITY 2006

Who is Furman?

Furman is a private university, ranked as one of the 50 finest liberal arts colleges in the country by U.S. News & World Report. It stands second among liberal arts colleges in the nation in both the number and percentage of undergraduates participating in summer research.

Furman also ranks first in the number of different disciplines studied during summer research, and it has been recognized for its excellence by the Wall Street Journal, Barron's Best Buys in College Education, the John Templeton Foundation, and Peterson's The Competitive Colleges.

The hallmark of a Furman education is engaged learning: an approach to the liberal arts that combines the best of classroom education with opportunities to exercise skills in the laboratory, the workplace, the community and the world.

We look forward to seeing you at the fall Drive-In.
